Saturday, August 13, 1870. The Graving Dock at Esquimalt.

The question of the construction of a Graving Dock is one that has been agitated again and again. One time or another everybody has been in expectation of the Home Government building it at once or next spring, or next year; or that it would be built by a company with Imperfal assistance. Then the question would die out. Again it has been revived. So in this manner the Graving Dock has been kept alive year by year, since 1858, and how long before, we know not. Several places have been suggested as a site for the dock; but the only two places heretofore which the people and government interested themselves to seriously ask the Imperial Government to adopt, HAS JUST RECEIVED AND OFFERS were Burrard Inlet and Esquimalt H for sale at Reduced Prices, for cash, Pedder Bay has been mentioned, and so has Nanaimo. But opinion everywhere seemed by common consent to admit that E-faimalt was the most suitable place. Last summer whilst the people were suggesting various conditions in the terms of Confederation with Canada, it was suggested by several parties that a Graving Dock at Esquimalt should be made one of the conditions. When the Governnt sent down the terms a Graving Dock at Esquimalt was very properly included in them. During the discussion of the question, the Hon Mr. Holbrook, in a very manly way, took exception to Es-quimalt, but the member for New Westinster evaded the direct issue by remmending the leaving out of the word Commending the leaving out of the word Esquimalt. The Council, with the exception of these two, were unanimously in favor of Esquimalt. So the question stood till the telegram of the terms of Union arrived. In the summary published in the Montreal Witness, it was stated that the Graving Dock was laid over for the consideration of Her Majesty's Government. Now we take it for ty's Government. Now we take it for granted that a Graving Dock will be built, and it is the common interest to build it at Esquimalt. It will be observed however by reference to the report of a meeting at Nanaimo, in our yesterday's quested to atten issue, that the Hon. Mr. Robson has taken upon bimself to promise the Graving Dock to the people of Nanaimo; or at least to advocate its construction at that port. Some short time ago he favored Burrard Inlet. Now we shall not find fault with the people of Nanaimo for trying to get the Graving Dock built there; nor shall we question the motive of the Hon. Mr. Robson in promising it to Nanaimo, although it may not be in his power to locate it there. He may think that the people of Nanaimo may be induced to believe in the possibility of their getting it through his influence; or he may conscientiously believe in locating it there. We much prefer to consider that the distinguished gentleman really believes that Burrard Inlet and Esquimalt do not offer such advantages as malt do not offer such advantages as malt do not offer such advantages as cisco direct, on the latter is the inst.

Nauaimo,—and that the latter is the inst.

For Freight or passage apply to an 10 R. BRODRICK, Agent. malt do not offer such advantages as Will leave Esquimalt Wharf for San Franproper place. In fact a production in the Colonist a few days ago suggested, Nanaimo and the similarity between it and the Hon. Mr. Robson's opinion, almost point to the Honorable gentleman as the author. It is sufficient however for our readers to know that so influential a gentleman as the Hon. Mr. Robson favors Nanaimo. It is his right to do so. It is our right to dissent and support Esquimalt as the only suitable place in the Colony, at the present time. Our reasons are these : No matter whether the Imperial Government or the Dominional Government, either individually or jointly, support hereafter the navy for this quarter of Her Majesty's dominions, still there must be a naval station. The station that every Admiral and Naval Commander has selected as the best

Esquimalt would never have had the honor of being the Naval Station. Next, the proper place for a Graving Dock is at the naval head-quarters. That is the common usage everywherefollowed on the high ground of utility only. Now, so much for the naval side of the question. With respect to the merchant marine that pass up the Straits of Fuca to Puget Sound, or Burrard Inlet, or Nausimo, or on the way to Alaska, there is no place that is so well calculated to accommodate them as Esquimalt. It is possible that a ship might go occasionally to Nanaimo for repairs, but it is not very likely, except repairs, but it is not very likely, except the vessel was near there accidentally. Esquimalt, however, is on the road both in and out of the Straits of Fuca, and it is accessible at all times to sailing accessible at all times to sail the times to s is accessible at all times, to sailing vessels and steamers. All vessels that do business in this part of the world have to pass and repass it. To compare it with Nanaimo for accessibility and suitability is folly—even as a matter of electioneer-ing clap-trap. The question of cheap freestone at Nanaimo, out of which to build the Dock there is too small a matter to be considered. It is simply the freight on a few thousand tons of stone as a set-off against a situation for a Graving Dock that every British and foreign vessel that goes in and out of the Straits must sight. The new interests springing up on Puget Sound in connec-tion with the North Pacific Railway also warn us of a commercial struggle.

One element in our commercial rivalry one element in our commercial rivalry is the shipping interest, If we place the proposed Dock at Esquimalt, we will hold the key of the shipping interest in these waters. To put it at Nanaimo, where the Hon. Mr. Robson has sag-

Nascy.-It will be interesting, no doubt, to our readers to know something about some of the French cities where there is likely to be some fighting very shortly. Nancy is a town of France, in the Department of Meurthe, of which it is the capital. It is situated in a fine plain, pear the Meurthe, 30 miles south of Metz, and 175 miles east by south of Paris, in latitude 45 Commencing a number of the present 41' $5'' N<sub>11</sub> and longitude 6° 10' 31'', E. and building it up to the site of the present town; perhaps connecting the two harbors, as has been talked of, by means of a canal across the peninsula. But remaining as a new when she has become a deelegance and regularity of its streets, which mostly intersect each other at right angles. No record exists of this town previous to the 11th century; but in the 13th it became the capital of Lorraine. It was twice besieged by Charles the Bold, of Burguady, who was killed under its walls in 1477.

FARMING LAND .- There are a great number of enquiries for farming land lately. Several farms have been taken up in different districts in the Colony. James' Island has been purchased by a man with a large family from Australia, who will cultivate it and raise stock. At Cowichan and Comox several pre-emption claims have been recorded.

FUTURE OF VICTORIA.

One cannot help thinking if it was annexed what a glorious city Victoria would become walls, but these were demolished under across the peninsula. But remaining as Louis XIII and Louis XIV. The citable is she is, even now when she has become a detered by several gates, some of which have much beauty. Nancy is divided into the old and new town. The new town, which, how-ever, is as old as 1603, is remarkable for the Northern Pacific Railroad will draw to itself the agricultural and mineral wealth of a large extent of territory whose resources are as ample as they are at present little understood Americans.

That the agricultural and elimotic advantages of British Columbia are not well known to general readers is no fault of British writ-School Benegit.—Last night the tent was treating of British Columbia and Vancouver crowded with a large and respectable audiof interesting matter.

THE PORTUNES OF VICTORIA.

Nelson Brothers distinguished themselves in when the rumor of rich discoveries in Caritheir Acrobatic feats. The contortionist act boo, revived the gold fever, and the tide of ing wonderful, to see the different immigration set in again. Victoria had its positions a man can put himself into with most rapid growth in the two or three years immediately following, and at one time pre while others were traditional and political The physical reasons for the reverses at Victoria were, the severe winter climate of the richest mining region, the cost of getting to it, and of living when there; and the scant agricultural resources of Vancouver Island. The political ones were those which usually beset a distant Crown Colony, with an expensive government to maintain, and none but second representation.

"One great drawback to Victoria is the want of good water on the spot. The supply at present is brought from a distance in carts at a considerable expense." I quote this sen-tence, but vouch for its truthfulness, because I every day see the cart as the door of the St. George, which supplies this establishment. There is talk of an appropriation finish the water works already commenced, I believe. Gas of a good quality is furnished

The Miracle Worker at Halifax THE Supenon's WINE,

On Sunday morning, the large room of the Mechanics' Hall, Halifax, was crowded with the sick and infirm of the district and of towns many miles distant, who were gathered together to be healed by Dr. Newton, the modern miracle worker. The cases included example of the worst forms of disease, including paralysis, fits, blindness, deafness, &.; and as these were brought before the doctor and examined the scene was a novel and the recent opening of Fijux's Hotel in station for British Columbia was removed from Fort Vancouver on the Columbia; and was large enough for the purposes of the Company, while it was small enough not to admit a great or numerous enemy. Doubtless also the good tastes of the Chief Factor who selected the new site for a fort, weighed ding paralysis, fits, blindness, deafness, &.; and as these were brought before the doctor and examined the scene was a novel and exciting one. After making the usual representation of a measurement, the doctor pressed various parts of the body, and in a loud voice and the recent opening of Figur's Hotel in Waverly Place, New York, it was decidedly various parts of the body, and in a loud voice among the Conneisseurs, journal is the leading wine at Delmonico's and at the recent opening of Figur's Hotel in Waverly Place, New York, it was decidedly various parts of the body, and in a loud voice among the Conneisseurs, journal is rapidly coming into general use in British Columbia.

It is the leading wine at Delmonico's and at the recent opening of Figur's Hotel in Waverly Place, New York, it was decidedly various parts of the body, and in a loud voice and others who were present. Many effective parts and others who were present. stated that he could not cure or benefit so that he inspires beholders with feelings of both fear and love. The hair of his head is of the color of wine, and, from the top of his head to the ears, straight and without radiance; but it descends from the ears to the shoulders in shining curls. From the shoulders the hair flows down the back, dividing into two portions, after the manner of the Nazarenes: his forehead is clear and without wrinkle; his face free from blemish, and slightly tinged with red; his physiognomy noble and gracious; the uose and mouth faultless. His beard is abundant, the same color as the hair, and forked. His eyes are blue and very brilliant. In reproveyes are blue and very brilliant. In reprov-ing or censuring, he is awe-inspiring; in exhorting and teaching, his speech is gentle and caressing. His countenance is marvel-him, and several cures of deafness occurred. him, and several cures of deafness occurred.
One curious point in the cures was that the persons operated upon seemed to be undergoing unnatural excitement, and the prespiration dropped from their foreheads as they endeavoured to obey the orders of Dr Newton.

The operations continued to be performed for two hours, and about 300 cases were dealt with, but, as far as could be leafned, the total cures would not exceed a dozen. In the course instantens. course of some remarks offered whilst the cases were proceeding, Dr. Newton explained that all he was able to accomplish was though the power of love; God loved him, and because he loved others he was able to heal their infirmities. If we lived more noble lives, and followed more closely the example of Christ, we should be able to heal the sick and all manner of diseases. Chirst, he be-lieved, was the noblest and best man that ever lived, but he was no more than a man, and there were many as bright and as glorious intelligences as be.

The Franco-Prussian War.

From all appearances Prussia and France each has over a million of men in arms, either in the field, in reserve, or in garrison, Each is putting forth all its strength. The total population of each is about the same, —North and South Germany, 37,000,000; France 38,000,000—and their capacity for military service is about equally developed. It is reasonable to suppose that their armie are not far from equal; though the number actually in the field may have been exagera-ted. The standing army of Prussia and South Germany is estimated at 571,826; the reserve 180,672; the garrisons and landwehr, 265,082, total 977,262. The French Blue Book for 1869 estimated the active army at 449,712; the Garde Mobile at nearly 580,000; total army and reserves, 1,028,000. Besides these, on the one side is the second and third call of the Landwebr of the Germans, and the French National Guard—about 250,000 each. If we estimate that each party have actually 500,-000 men in battle, we shall probably not go far wide of the fact.

King William I, was born in 1797 and was the second son of Fredrick William III. When his elder brother King Fredrick William IV, a most amiable but a weak minded man, became insane in 1858, William the Commander-in-Chief of the Prussian army was declared Regent. His first act was to dismiss the Cabinet of his elder brother, composed entirely of leaders of the aristografic party and to establish a new administration to whose tirely of leaders of the aristocratic party and to establish a new administration to whose energetic and liberal policy, the Kingdom owes much of its material and political ad-vancement. His insane brother died in 1861, without issue, and the Regent became King, under the title of William I. The great events of his reign thus far have been annexa-tion of the Elbe Duchies and the important campaign which ended in the humiliation of Austria. He is a proud headstrong monarch and Austria. He is a proud headstrong monarch and a firm believer in the devine right of Kinga. His Queen, Augusta, is the daughter of the Duke of Weimar. She is a very ambitious woman, fine looking, and is said to be personally kind and amiable. The only son and heir to the Throne is the Crown Prince Fredrick William, he was born in 1831. Just before his fathers elevation to the Throne he married the eldest daughter of Queen Victoria and by her has two children.

Naldle Gun vs. Chassepor .- The result of the war between France and Prussis seems likely to turn upon the superiority of the weapons used, rather than upon the prowess of the combatants. The rule has therefore become obsolete, which says:

The race is not forever got By him who fastest runs, Nor the battle by those people That shoot with the long guns.

An intelligent youth, recently engaged in a commercial office, made out a shipping bill for "fourty" barrels of flour. His employer called his attention to an error in the spelling of forty. "Sure enough," replied the promising clerk, "I left out the gh." The mourners at a New Zealand native child's funeral drowned their grief in two hogsheads of ale and thirty gallons of spirits. They were drunk two days. When Lord Sidmouth one day said, "My brains are gone to the dogs, this morning," his friend at once ejaculated "Poor dogs!"

A Cincinnatti paper advertises for "girls for cooking." A contemporary replies: "You would like them raw, when you get accustomed to them."
